How to make a new park

Pleasanton Meadows residents were out in force Saturday morning working with the Loma Alta

Action Playground Committee to install a tot lot at Loma Alta Park. Funds were raised by the committee through flea markets and other activities. This was the scene last Saturday and the same action will occur for the next two Saturdays. Anyone who wants to volunteer can show up between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. to pitch in.

New study seen for 'Dublin City'

Alameda County Bureau
OAKLAND — The long, hard pull leading to creation of the "City of Dublin" could begin this morning if county supervisors approve a $1,000 grant toward study of the issue.

The local chamber of commerce, with the backing of valley supervisor representative John Murphy, has requested the funds. The money would go to Cal State Hayward's Department of Public Administration for the three to six months study.

Chamber president Tim Baldwin said his organization at this time is neither for nor against cityhood for the hamlet of 15,000. But the issue should be studied, and the chamber appears to be the focal point, he added.

Dubliners went after incorporation some 10 years ago, but were rebuffed by the Local Agency Formation Commission. LAFCO directors denied ballot status for a vote on incorporation, and instead offered residents the option of annexation with Pleasanton.

Dublin voters overwhelmingly rejected the offer.

Operating under state legislation and court decisions, LAFCO is charged with eliminating the multitude of "non-cities" scattered through urban areas in the state. The commission cannot initiate the change, but rules on the validity of a residents' petition.

Cities complain that their neighbors, who do not pay city taxes, still use city services. County government says supporting non-cities with police and public works puts an unfair burden on all taxpayers and strains the county's budget.

But in preliminary figures released last year by the county, Dublin reportedly turned a "tax profit" of some $444,000. The money represented "nearly twice as much revenue as is required to provide municipal-type services to this area," county administrator Loren Enoch said then.

Dublin's assets, however, are offset by nearly a million dollars in county subsidization for Castro Valley, the Eden - Washington Township and unincorporated clusters around Livermore.

Enoch's office currently is working on a more detailed financial breakdown of income and costs.

Any petition drive to incorporate would have to be submitted to LAFCO for approval. The commission may allow a ballot measure on cityhood, or, if they make the same findings of nearly a decade ago, a choice on annexation with Pleasanton.

LAFCO commissioners ruled as late as March, 1975, that annexation with Pleasanton's 32,000 people would be preferable to separate cityhood.

But the LAFCO staff said at the time that "it is difficult to determine without specific and detailed study whether Dublin has by itself sufficient revenue base to support being incorporated and even if it could finance an incorporated city, its small size would tend to make provision of services inefficient, unnecessarily duplicative and unnecessarily expensive."

'Some hope' in Murray

Some hope for a contract settlement in the next two weeks was expressed by mediator Mike West, following the initial mediation session Monday morning between Murray School District teacher and administration representatives.

The Murray Teachers Association and district administration negotiating teams met with West for 3½ hours, electing to set a second mediation confab for next week.

West, a conciliator assigned by the California State Conciliation Office, Department of Industrial Relations, was to meet with teacher and administration negotiators in the Amador Valley Joint High School District today.

The Amador Valley Secondary Educators Association (AVSEA) previously declared an impasse in negotiations, shortly after a similar action by Murray teacher representatives.

Meanwhile, the Murray district is operating without two of its three top administrators.

Business manager Phillip Chubb turned in a letter requesting early retirement effective December 1. The request was granted by the Murray board a week ago Monday.

Superintendent Donald Williams, who was hospitalized last week because of a heart condition, left Kaiser Hospital in Walnut Creek Monday. It is not known when he will return to work.

Campaign fund for WAIT is under fire

DANVILLE — TOWN NOW, a pro incorporation group in the San Ramon Valley, maintains some unknown party is paying campaign expenses for Work Against Increased Taxes (WAIT), the anti-incorporation group.

"Our committee would still like to know who is paying the campaign expenses for WAIT," said Beverly Lane, chairman of TOWN NOW. "It strains our credibility to believe a public relations firm like Santa Clara's Dave Heagerty is preparing mailers and newspaper ads on the basis of promises."

"We are concerned that the WAIT people are indeed waiting — to report their campaign expenses and contributions until the October deadline passes. Then the people of the valley will never know who is backing the anti's until after the election," Lane continued.

"We are only too well aware of who the large contributors to the 'NO' campaign were last time in 1973," Lane said. "It is a matter of public record that the three largest contributors included: Sunrise Corporation (Broadmoor Development Corp. is now developing these properties) for $2500, a Martinez law firm for $2000 and Marin Master Builders for $1000."

"Outsiders will not have to live with the uncontrolled growth which the valley is now experiencing," said Lane. "But we will. With a town we can determine the pace and type of growth here. The issue is: will we allow outsiders to run this valley or will we form a town and do it ourselves?"

Mori speaks today on 'the economy'

PLEASANTON — "State policies and the local economy" will be the subject of a report to be delivered Tuesday noon by Assemblyman Floyd Mori.

The Chamber of Commerce will host the luncheon gathering at Hap's Restaurant.

Also on the chamber's agenda is a vote registering that body's sentiment on the Valley Pipeline, to be submitted to the Valley electorate on Nov. 2. A motion seeking chamber approval of that measure was offered last Tuesday by Bill Hirst.

Start swine flu shots Wednesday

Swine flu shots will be given to high-risk patients beginning Wednesday in the Valley.

The first shipment of vaccine has arrived ahead of schedule, enabling the Alameda County Health Care Services staff to set up free clinics. They are only for senior citizens and chronically ill people who will have trouble getting to the mass immunization clinics at the Fairgrounds later this month.

Immunization is not recommended for anyone who is allergic to chickens, eggs, chicken feathers or chicken dander.

Here is the county flu shot schedule:

SENIOR CITIZENS AND HIGH-RISK PATIENTS OF ANY AGE:
Oct. 13: 10:30 a.m. to 3 p.m., Livermore Multi-Service Center, 2466 Eighth St., Livermore.

Oct. 14: 10:30 a.m. to 3 p.m., Springtown, 931 Larkspur Drive, Livermore.

Oct. 18 and Oct. 25: Kottinger Place, 240 Kottinger Drive, Pleasanton, 10:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.

FOR CHILDREN 3 THROUGH 17 YEARS OLD WHO ARE HIGH-RISK: Two shots, four weeks apart, at: Valley Memorial Hospital, Livermore, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Oct. 16 and Nov. 13. Children should attend both clinics. Parents must accompany them to sign the consent form. High risk includes children suffering from chronic respiratory disease such as asthma or cystic fibrosis; heart disease; kidney disease; diabetes; chronic nerve or muscular disorders; malignancies.

Mass immunization clinics for those not receiving shots at the specialized clinics will be offered on Sunday, Oct. 24 and 31 at the Pleasanton Fairgrounds and at other sites throughout Alameda County. Anyone wishing to volunteer to help run the big clinics should call the county at 874-7551.

Cityhood debate aired

DANVILLE — Both sides of the San Ramon Valley incorporation question will be presented in a panel discussion on KKIS, KDFM radio, Walnut Creek Cable Channel 6 television and Moraga Channel 6 television.

KKIS and KDFM will carry the broadcast Sunday, Oct. 17 at 9 p.m. Walnut Creek Cable Channel 6 will ## Reduce retail hub on Pico?

PLEASANTON — The H.C. Elliott Co. will ask for a reduction in its commercially zoned property on Pico Avenue and Tawny Drive tomorrow night at the planning commission meeting at 8 p.m. in the City Council Chambers.

Elliott currently has 10 acres of commercial zoning and four acres of multiple residential zoning on the 14-acre site. Elliott wants to reduce the commercial zone by three acres and add it to the multiple zone.

Elliott also would change the current PUD zoning on the residential area to RM-4000, so the net effect of adding three acres of multiples will be to increase the total number of projected units by seven.

The staff likes the idea of Elliott reducing the commercial site without creating an appreciable increase in residential units in the adjacent zone and has recommended approval of the zoning change.

According to the staff's report, Elliott is negotiating with another developer to build a supermarket and related commercial enterprises. A portion of the shopping center probably would be developed by Elliott's firm.

Also on the planning commission agenda tomorrow is a request from Emmaus Fellowship to use a portion of the old Reynold C. Johnson Volkswagen office building for church purposes. The city zoning code doesn't allow churches in a general industrial district and the fellowship will ask the planning commission to amend the ordinance so a church will be permitted in that district.

The staff is recommending against a change in the ordinance. The old Volkswagen offices may suit the fellowship well, but in general churches would not be appropriate in an industrial district, says the staff in its report.

"One of the main purposes of industrial zoning is to group industrial uses together where they will not create nuisances for other types of land uses. Opening the district up to religious facilities would be contrary to that purpose," said the report.

The commission also will consider placing the following properties in a study district, hillside plan development district or planned unit development or other appropriate zone: 18 acres at the southeast corner of Bernal Avenue and Foothill Road, 10 acres on the east side of Rose Avenue near Pleasanton Avenue and Fair Street, 14 acres at the southwest corner of Vineyard Avenue and Pico Avenue, 67 acres near Sports and Recreation Park, 53 acres south of Minnie Street near Sunol Boulevard, and 120 acres west of Foothill Road near Bernal Avenue.

High School Board Wage talk impasse and occupations

Several items concerning the Regional Occupational Program (ROP), building reports and the impasse status of salary negotiations will be discussed by Amador Valley Joint High School District trustees tonight.

The board will hold its regular monthly meeting at Sunol Glen School in Sunol commencing at 8 p.m.

Tom Himmelberg, principal for last summer's sessions at Dublin High School, will report on courses and enrollments. Classes with the top enrollments included driver training (416), band camp (250), weight training (178), CETA-work experience (139), civics (108), foreign study (102), Social Studies III (97), and Social Studies II (92).

Himmelberg adds that two new courses were provided in the curriculum; tennis (2 classes), geometry, and a special class for students with learning disabilities.

Overall enrollment in summer school increased over last year, with a total 2,009 students participating in the program. Social studies, English and physical education enrollments increased as many students enrolled to make-up credits in the required subject areas.

Trustees will learn that no progress has been made on the Foothill High field lighting. The district is presently awaiting approval of the lighting pole drawings by the Office of the State Architect and delivery of materials.

Work on the Amador Valley High library addition is 26 per cent complete, according to a district report, with slightly more than one-third of the contract time having elapsed.

Trustees are also slated to act on an agreement with Valley Memorial Hospital for placement of an ROP relocatable on the hospital site, approve a list of textbooks, act on an agreement with the Valley Community Services District regarding ROP wastewater treatment plant and accept a book donation from the Bicentennial Committee of Pleasanton.

Foothill merit scholars

Richard Dabrowski, Beth Eby and Jan Juchau, seniors at Foothill High School, are congratulated by principal Richard Carroll for being named Commended Scholars in the National Merit Scholarship program. Richard was actually named a semi-finalist, which makes him eligible for selection as a finalist. Tentatively bound for the University of California as a pre-law student, he will learn of his National Merit status next April. Selection as a Commended student or semi-finalist places them in the top two per cent of all senior high school students nationwide.

How to plan a carnival

The Walnut Grove School PTA will conduct a carnival Saturday, Oct. 16 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the school, 5199 Black Ave. New attractions such as a 50-50 cash raffle and canned food ring toss game are planned along with a country store, food and game booths. Tom Ingham, teaching vice principal at Walnut Grove, looks over some of the craft items and potted plants to be included in the country store and displayed here by, from left, Sandi Smith, Sandy Fagg and Lynn Doyle. Children anxiously anticipating the carnival Oct. 16 are Steve Doyle, Kelly Fagg and Matt Smith.

Three arrested in fracas at Jack in the Box

LIVERMORE — Three persons were arrested after a wild melee involving three police reserve officers, four citizens and a patrolman at the Jack in the Box restaurant parking lot Friday night.

According to reports, reserve patrolmen followed a vehicle that sped away from a gas station into the restaurant parking lot about 10 p.m. Friday. Reserve officer Fritz Frick reportedly advised the driver, Arthur Allen Alexander, 23, to slow down.

Frick noticed alcohol on Alexander's breath, and suggested he order coffee before resuming driving, when a man identified as William Lloyd Hughes came up and said, "Why don't you go out and arrest some burglars and criminals instead of hassling people at Jack in the Box?"

When Frick gave Hughes the same advice about coffee, Hughes allegedly struck Frick on the chest. Frick and fellow reservist Terry Platt restrained and handcuffed the suspect.

Police reports indicate that another man, identified as Eugene Vincent Macahilas, approached Platt and pushed him on the left shoulder while yelling at both officers.

Officer John Brady then arrived, at which point Macahilas allegedly attacked Brady and reserve officer Bob Lucas. Macahilas' wife, Debra Lee, reportedly tried to pull police off her husband while he fought with police.

Macahilas was finally restrained after the chemical irritant Mace was sprayed into his face. After being placed in the patrol car, however, Macahilas reportedly tried to kick out the car's rear window, and was again maced after spitting on Platt and trying to flee.

Eugene Macahilas, 22, was booked on suspicion of battery, battery against police officers, and malicious mischief. His wife, Debra Lee, 19, was booked for resisting arrest. Hughes, 22, was booked on suspicion of battery against police. All reside at 1753 Park St.

Alexander was booked on suspicion of being drunk in public.

$1,500 vandalism damage at May School

LIVERMORE — Four persons were arrested after a vandalism attack at May School caused an estimated $1,500 damage to the historic structure Thursday night, deputies reported.

Deputies said a car had been driven through the century-old school, damaging what is thought to be the first indoor plumbing in the county.

Residents in the area alerted deputies to a car in the area after hearing loud noises. Four persons were arrested in connection with the vandalism.

Suspect arrested in battery case

LIVERMORE — A man suspected of breaking a drinking glass in another man's face was arrested shortly after the incident at a local bar, police reported.

According to reports, John James Gogos Sr., 42, was arguing with Robert Edward Sanders in their Oak Street home early Saturday. Gogos allegedly became angered and smashed his drinking glass into Sanders' face, opening a deep cut just below his left eye.

Gogos was arrested a short time later after police located him inside Eddie's 125 Club on North Livermore Avenue. He was booked on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon.

Girl injured, cyclist arrested in accident

LIVERMORE — A 16-year-old Livermore girl is recovering after she was allegedly struck by a motorcycle whose driver was arrested on suspicion of felony drunk driving.

According to reports, William James Steves Jr., 20, of Tanager Road in Drive in Pleasanton, was driving his motorcycle northbound on Murrieta about 4:45 p.m. Friday. Traffic backed up before the four-way stop at Olivina, so Steves reportedly drove off the roadway to pass on the right.

Kimberly Faye Dunlap, 16, of Junco Avenue, just stepped off the curb and began to cross the street when she was allegedly struck by Steves' motorcycle. Witnesses said that beer from a can Steves' was carrying splattered upon impact.

Dunlap was taken to Valley Memorial Hospital, and later transferred to Kaiser Hospital in Oakland, where she was treated and released.

Police said they would seek a complaint of felony drunk driving against Steves.

Vandals shoot out windows on Santa Rita Road

PLEASANTON — Vandals totting BB guns shot holes in several plate glass windows from businesses on Santa Rita Road sometime last week, police reported.

The Carousel Card Shop, 1719 Santa Rita Road, reported $250 damage. Kim's Fashions at 1723 Santa Rita Road suffered $350 damage, and three windows valued at $500 were damaged at Amador Sports and Hobbies at 1685 Santa Rita Road.

There are no suspects. Police said patrols in this area would increase to prevent further vandalism.

Arabian mare worth $5,000 stolen

PLEASANTON — A purebred Arabian mare, worth $5,000, has been stolen from her corral near Pleasanton, sheriff's deputies report.

Two other horses of equal value were left unmolested in the corral at the end of Johnson Road, according to sheriff's deputies.

The mare, named Seyrema, stood 14 hands, 3 inches high, was chestnut in color with a white blaze on her face, two white stockings on her front and back, had a flaxen mane and tail and a scar on her chest, according to owner Doyle Brower of Hayward who reported the theft Sunday.

That 'special' sitter Who'll take the kids?

Retarded kids need babysitters too.

So do those afflicted with cerebral palsy, or epilepsy, brain damage or autism. But, says Patricia Chudacoff of the Alameda County Association for the Mentally Retarded, nobody seems to want to take care of these kids (or adults) while their parents go out for a much-needed night on the town.

Part of the problem is the potential babysitter's dilemma: "How do I handle this person's handicap? How do I cope with an epileptic seizure? Take off a brace? How do I entertain a retarded person?"

People who are trained or willing to take the responsibility sometimes charge as much as $10 an hour for their specialized services.

The Association for the Mentally Retarded is trying to do something about this problem with a just-funded program, a "Respite Service."

When it gets underway next month, the program will train willing adults (18 and over) to care for handicapped people. And, the parents of handicapped youngsters or adults will be able to call the service, at 632-4300, to line up a babysitter.

It will still cost the parents $1 to $2 an hour for the care, because the Respite Service doesn't subsidize the babysitter's salary. And, babysitters can't expect to make a lot of money at their job (although they'll get more than the usual 75 cents an hour which is the standard rate in the Valley.)

What the "providers," as the babysitters are called, will get is 30 hours of training; experience in caring for the handicapped; and the satisfaction of helping an afflicted family.

"It's surprising how many people have already called up to be in the program," Chudacoff reports.

"And it's so often those busy people who are already doing all kinds of volunteer work. Or, young mothers who want to get out of the house once in a while. We also get a lot of students who will be getting good career training if they want to be a nurse, a special education teacher, a therapist."

"Learning to cope with epileptic seizures and other problems can be a help even if you're a supermarket clerk."

The first training session begins Nov. 13 in Oakland. Future sessions are envisioned for the southern part of the county, although no date has been set yet for those classes.

Training includes first aid, use of special equipment needed by the handicapped, communication skills and suggestions for appropriate activities for leisure time. There will be a total of 30 hours of free classes given to prospective providers.

If the providers have already had some experience with the handicapped, they'll be allowed to work in the new program before their training is completed. Others will have to wait until they are trained, and won't be available for a month or so.

Parents of handicapped children or adults may book a babysitter by calling Patricia Chudacoff at the Respite Service, 632-4300. Although the service is primarily for retarded, autistic, cerebral palsied, epileptic and other "developmentally disabled" people, if there are enough providers, no applicant of a handicapped child — blind, deaf, crippled — will be turned down, Chudacoff promises.

Board of Ed meet set

The Alameda County Board of Education will conduct a hearing on the appointment of John Hagerty to the Alameda County Personnel Commission at Thursday's board meeting.

For the first time in recent years, the board will conduct its regular meeting at a site other than the Hayward offices on W. Winton Avenue. Thursday's meeting will be held at Lockwood Elementary School, 6701 E. 14th St. in Oakland starting at 8 p.m.

Hagerty, a long-time County Board of Education member, is a resident of Pleasanton.

He lost his position on the board when redistricting was accomplished this past summer.

The move to hold board meetings at various sites around the county was originally suggested by Erica Huggins, the Oakland board member who took Hagerty's position upon redistricting.

Following the hearings, including one on the appointment of Charles Furlow of Oakland to the personnel commission, the board will recess to executive session and then make the appointments.

Board members will also receive a report on the Alameda County Course of Study, consider a position on Proposition 8, consider appointment of three members to the County School Attendance Review Board (SARB) and decide whether to hold the Oct. 28 meeting in Berkeley.

LUSD to hold pact talks

LIVERMORE — The Livermore Unified School District board will be meeting tonight in closed session to discuss personnel and negotiations.

The executive session will be preceded by a brief public meeting to discuss one topic: Calling for bids on a quarter-mile running track and enclosed turf at Mendenhall School. Only items on the agenda for a special meeting such as tonight's session may be taken up at that meeting.

The next regular public school board meeting is at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 19, in the Education Center, 685 Las Positas Blvd.

Budget meeting open

SAN RAMON — The first in a series of informational meetings on the budget process will be held this evening at California High School's little theatre, starting at 7:30 p.m.

The meetings have been setup to better inform the public in the San Ramon Valley Unified School District on procedures utilized in putting together a budget.

Members of the district administration will be present to discuss the budget and answer questions.

NEED A LAUGH?

If you require a good, hearty laugh with your cereal each morning, don't miss "Frank and Ernest" in The Times comics.

Trivia teasers test talents

PLEASANTON — The pairings for Thursday night's "First Annual Trivia Bowl" have been announced.

All proceeds from the fun-gathering at Hap's Restaurant on Neal Street will go to the Foothill High School athletic complex.

Leading off the doubleheader trivia contest at 7:30 p.m. will be the Foothill High Boosters versus Pleasanton Lions Club match. The Lions will be out to even their record after losing the "club title" to the Pleasanton Rotary several months back.

Competing for the Boosters will be principal Richard Carroll and Jim Davenport, Bob Morgan, Yvan Albert, Dean Wise and Tom Hansen of the faculty.

Opposing the Times trivia experts in the second-half of the doubleheader will be a potent Amador-Pleasanton All-Star sextet composed of superintendent Bruce Newlin, Amador principal Ralph Laird, Dublin principal Bob Hagler, assistant principal Don Seaver, Foothill administrative assistant Joan Mackay, and Pleasanton trustee Joe Schwab.

The Times lineup will include captain Al Fischer, Ray Mason, Joe Gates, Bob Norek, Ron McNicoll and John Devlin.

Admission to the "Trivia Bowl" is $1.50. The contests are scheduled for the main banquet room in the back of Hap's.

Nature shop set

LIVERMORE — Alice Tetlow, Livermore Area Recreation and Park District naturalist, is conducting a two-part fall workshop in pre-school nature activities.

Participants in the first workshop will explore various ways to expose pre-schoolers to the wonders and excitement of the natural world. Examples of some in-class projects, both short and ongoing, will be presented.

The participants of the second workshop will go on a field trip where they can observe some plant and animal communities in the Livermore - Pleasanton area.

Native plants and animals will be pointed out; observations will be made of many animal homes, in land and in streams and ponds.

In the evening category, Hayward has 6,226 students and Valley 1,558. Last year there were 7,052 evening students at Hayward, a drop of 426, and Valley 1,730, a decrease of 172.

Altogether, the Hayward campus is serving 16,384 day and evening students compared with 16,828 last year.

Lilly of the Valley

Some people can grow old gracefully while others do it with a bang! Take for instance a certain young lady who, as her friends put it, "just went over the hill." She turned 30.

A week before "old age" crept upon this individual she was still feeling her oats and playing youthful games and bang, to the floor she went. She now supports a cast on her leg for having mislocated her kneecap and in the cast the leg will remain for approximately six weeks.

That was not bad enough. No, her friends added insult to injury by staging a party with the theme "Surprise Wake." Everything was in black, including the invitations that were sent out.

The tombstone for a cake was the center piece for the evening with the words, "Here lies the remains of, name ad age, youth." The invitations carried the same joyful greeting.

Hate to say it, but the guest of honor began to act and show her age. She remained in a chair all evening with her foot propped up as she was waited upon by one person or another. Served by all but her husband that is, he's a little older, won't say how much, but he still believes in "respect for your elders," no matter what the circumstances.

The cards and gifts the honored received were a show by themselves. Leaves one to wonder where people get all those neat little cards for the appropriate occasion. The gifts — the imaginations ran wild! Word has it the young-old lady is holding up pretty good for being 30 and in spite of her handicap of a bad knee. The knee too is coming along fairly well with only time and taking it easy getting her back on her feet.

Perhaps this gal can look at this accident as a blessing in disguise as she has been very active for many causes and has worked herself into a state where the rest is needed. Too bad it took a weight on the entire one leg to slow her down.

Meantime a few weeks later on the other side of town, seems there is a particular Pleasanton Policeman who also "went over the hill" agewise.

His friends got together and while he slept, decorated his home with black crepe paper, bathroom tissue and put a few choice signs up like, "the bionic moose needs a new battery," "Go slow, this cop is over the hill."

Understanding his cruising down Main Street will also come to an end. Perhaps that "cruising" may take on a different form being he is a policeman.

And then there is the senior citizen I hear who just turned 90 and feels he is "in the prime of life." His friends say he is as sharp as a tack and can play cards better than anyone they know. "He wins quite regularly," they say, "even if he has to cheat a little!" If this individual waited to turn 90 before starting to cheat in life, I'd say he has earned that privilege. He's a person that "fully enjoys life" according to his friends.

So, young or old, we are all heading for "the prime of life" with some of us closer to it than others. For those just "going over the hill," cheer up, you only have 60 more years to hit the "prime" target! Happy birthday to all and many, many more, remember, "you've only just begun."

MIX-BUT-DON'T-MATCH hits men's fashions with ensembles priced as one unit or sold with separate price tags, item by item. A stepweave vest and check sportcoat (above) easily coordinate with solid mushroom doeskin flannel slacks. Small-scaled tan, rust and blue check wool trousers combine with similarly toned sweater set of vest and cardigan (right).

Livermore assesses heritage

Plans are complete for the upcoming historic building resources survey

Livermore Collectors

The annual potluck dinner for the Livermore Avon Collectors is set Wednesday, Oct. 13 at the Livermore Public Library.

Members will bring table service, and an entree, salad or dessert to share. The 7:30 p.m. event is open to the public, especially those interested in bottle collecting.

Results of the club's year-long competition will be revealed, and exhibits by members will be featured. For more information call Helen Hahn at 447-2097 or Carol McDaniel at 455-6997.

Juniors convene

The Junior Women of Dublin-San Ramon convene Thursday, Oct. 14 at the Lutheran Church of the Resurrection in Dublin.

The 7:30 p.m. meeting is open to women interested in community service.

The Juniors will send three representatives to the Area A conference at San Jose's Holiday Inn Saturday, Oct. 16. They are Joy Milliken, chapter president, Carol Lopez, state controller, and Barbara Clark, chapter vice president.

The conference features workshops on leadership, legislation, international affairs, and special sessions for club officers. Present will be Mrs. Royal G. Wilke, state president of the California Federation of Women's Clubs and Carol Diess, junior league state president.

The Dublin-San Ramon Junior Women will host a membership coffee Oct. 27 at 10 a.m. at the home of Karen Burke, 177 Joaquin Circle, San Ramon.

Druids host card party

Pleasanton Druid Circle No. 43 will host a card party for the public Thursday, Oct. 14 at the Pleasanton Gardens recreation hall on Kottinger Avenue at 1:30 p.m.

Frances Cortez, chairwoman, will be assisted by Julia Rathbone, Mary Piddoli and Estelle Andrade. Refreshments, door prizes and score prizes are included in the donation of 50 cents per person.

at Livermore Saturday, Oct. 16.

Chairman Gary Drummond of the Livermore Heritage Guild has put out a call for volunteers to walk the streets in the older sections of Livermore, gathering data on building styles and condition. Persons interested in working on the survey will attend an orientation meeting Thursday, Oct. 14 at the Livermore Public Library at 7:30 p.m. The meeting will acquaint volunteers with building styles, identification clues and survey instructions.

The area to be covered by the survey is generally bounded by Pine Street, Junction Avenue, Maple Street, Seventh Street, Livermore Avenue, College Avenue, Holmes-First Street and P Street — an area of about 160 blocks.

Volunteer surveyors will work in pairs, each pair assigned to an area of eight to ten blocks.

Speaking on neighborhood preservation Nov. 5 as a guest of the Livermore Heritage Guild will be Judith Waldhorn.

A master of city planning and instructor at Stanford University and the University of California, Ms. Waldhorn currently holds a design fellowship from the National Endowment for the Arts.

She is an expert on the preservation of San Francisco's Victorian structures.

The Heritage Guild will host Ms. Waldhorn at a dinner at the Pleasanton Hotel. Reservations at $7 per person are available through Mrs. William Junk at 447-5461 (evenings) or Janet Newton at 447-9592.

HAVE A BEDWETTER? LET HIM HAVE A DRY BED

The greatest gift you can give a bedwetter and the rest of the family, too, is an end to this serious problem, and make no mistake, bedwetting is serious. It can cause complicated psychological problems that last a lifetime. It's so needless because bedwetting when not caused by organic defect or disease, can be ended. Phone or write for our free brochure, "Bedwetting — What It's All About and How to End It" a report by three medical doctors. No obligation.

Project Engineer Robert Schang, 28, of Pleasanton, ponders the logistics of moving two million cubic yards of dirt for the highway construction.

The problem. . .

Moving two million square yards of dirt is no easy matter, but the highway construction workers along I-580 are faced with the problem every day.

Not wanting to have trucks constantly cross the highway and obstruct traffic as the huge earth moving scrapers tackled the hill on the opposite side, engineers had to decide on an action.

It was a case of getting from here to there without bothering freeway traffic — after all, that would only delay the project and cost more in the long run.

The solution. . .

Ira Jones beams twice.

Workers from S.J. Groves and Sons Contractors concentrated efforts on two bridges to allow the huge scrapers access to the hill on the other side of the freeway from their fleet parking spot.

Many manhours went into the effort, working as traffic was rerouted to completed sections while the lower sections were built up with the new dirt.

A worker inspects the huge I-beams which sprout across the freeway in the beginning stages of a bridge.

Joe Lester of Dublin welds a cross brace on the second of two haul bridges.

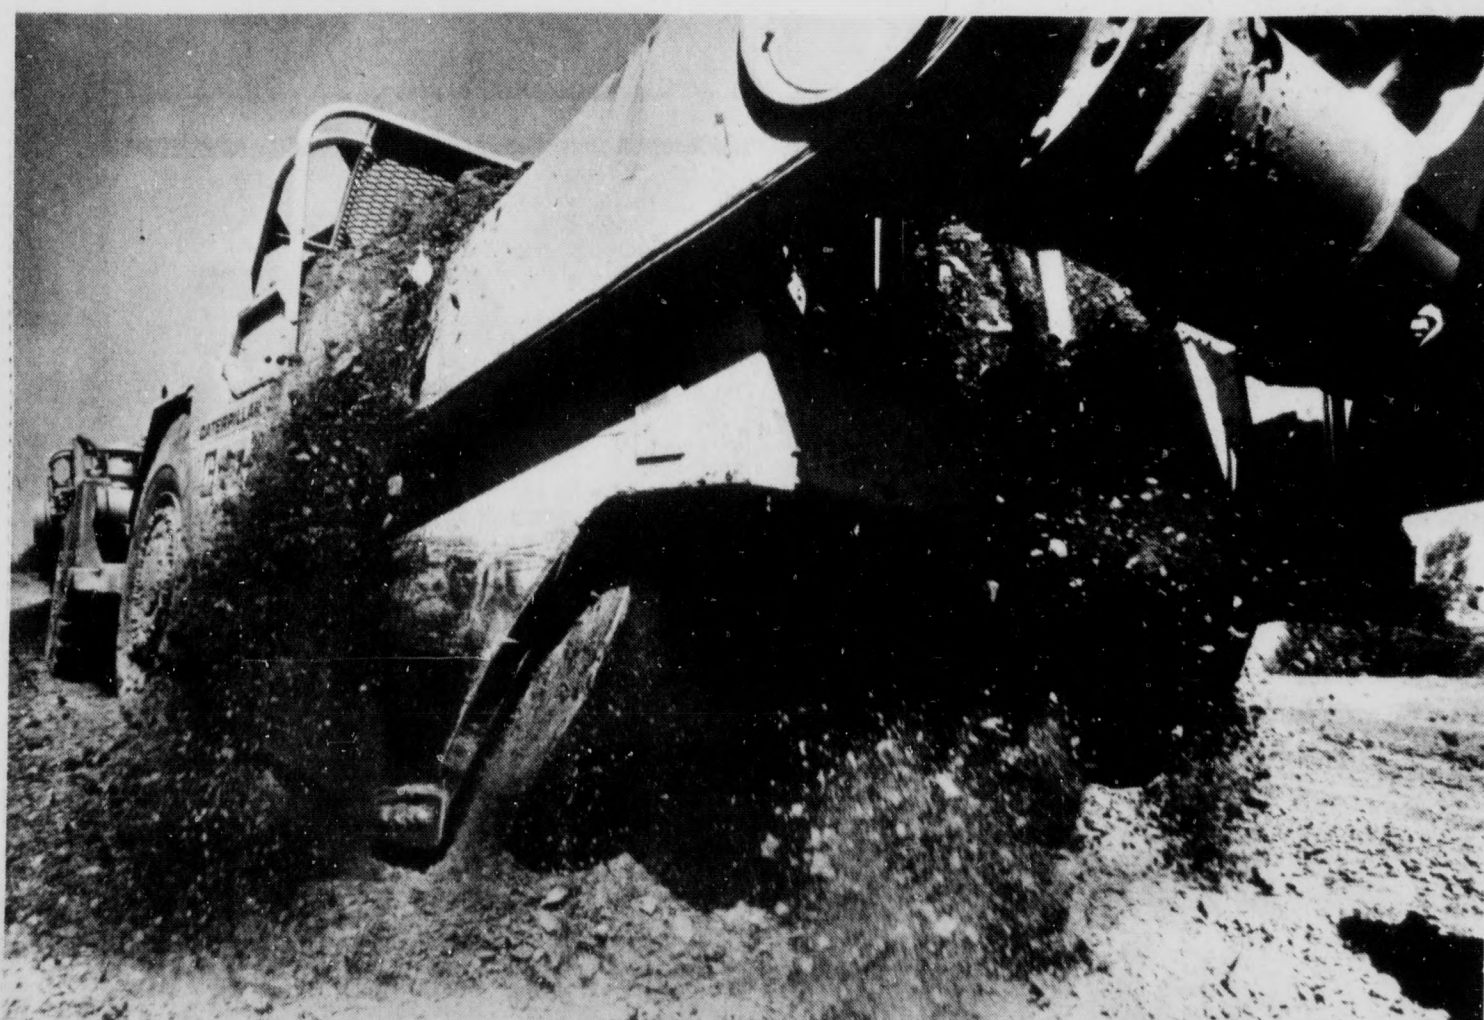

With one of the bridges completed, the giant scrapers marched up the hillside, working in teams, pushing and pulling one another.

As one pushed, the front one would lower the carriage, scooping up tons of rock and dirt. Soon the carriage would overflow from the top and the leader would begin pulling.

Project Engineer Robert Schang estimates it will take 100,000 trips to "fill the hole," the lower section of old freeway from the bridge to Rowell Ranch.

The results. . .

Ripping and gouging, the earth moving scrapers overcome obstacles.

Trudging up the hill, the scrapers readied for the assault on nature.

The monstrous machines head across the bridge, leaving the freeway traffic unaffected.

astrograph

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
You're very sharp mentally today, but don't go off half-cocked on an idea. Think before you expound. Read closely what you write.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
The cycle where you presently dwell is one of personal accumulation, as long as you don't let some sharpie derail you.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
Handle important tasks by yourself today. You can always tell partners how you did it, later.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
The day will likely be only semiproductive for you. If you did all you were supposed to without procrastinating, it could be sensational.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
Don't play favorites today. You could hurt someone who is fond of you. Treat sensitive friends with extra tact.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
The only thing that could hurt you today is your own feelings of inadequacy. You're much more formidable than you give yourself credit for.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
Depend solely on your logic today in evaluating situations. You could take the wrong track by heeding hunches that could be misleading.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)
Avoid giving in to selfish desires today. You'll profit more ultimately by thinking of what you can gain for all involved.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)
You're normally not the type to take a back seat to anyone, but today you might be better off to "let George do it."

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
The chances of success improve today in direct proportion to your ability to get to the point. Stalling only spins your wheels.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)
In fraternizing with friends today, let it all hang out. Something you try to conceal they may already know and they'll respect you more if you're honest.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)
Should you feel a twinge of jealousy today regarding what another is or has, count your blessings. You have far more pluses than you realize.

Your Birthday
Oct. 12, 1976
A different type of alliance with a friend of long-standing could be in the cards for you this year. You may get into a new group activity.

By Oswald & James Jacoby
The game was match-point duplicate and South felt that he needed a top score. Hence, his two-diamond response to the spade opening. When North raised to three diamonds, South bid three notrump.

If West had led anything but a diamond, South would rattle off 12 tricks for his top or at least a tie for top with any other who played three notrump and made six.

However, West decided that maybe South was trying something. He opened his fourth-best diamond. Dummy's 10 forced East's king and East returned his jack of spades. South played his ace and West dropped the queen.

Now it was South's turn to do some thinking and the results were disastrous. He decided that East had led the jack of spades from jack-10-deuce. He entered dummy with a club and took a finesse against that 10 spot that East was supposed to hold.

West produced that card and led a second diamond, whereupon South, who was really mad at himself by then, hopped up with dummy's queen to wind up going down one at his notrump contract.

Ask the Jacobys

A Missouri reader wants to know if you pass as dealer and then bid two spades in response to your partner's one-diamond opening, your bid is a game force, a one-round force or just a strong bid?

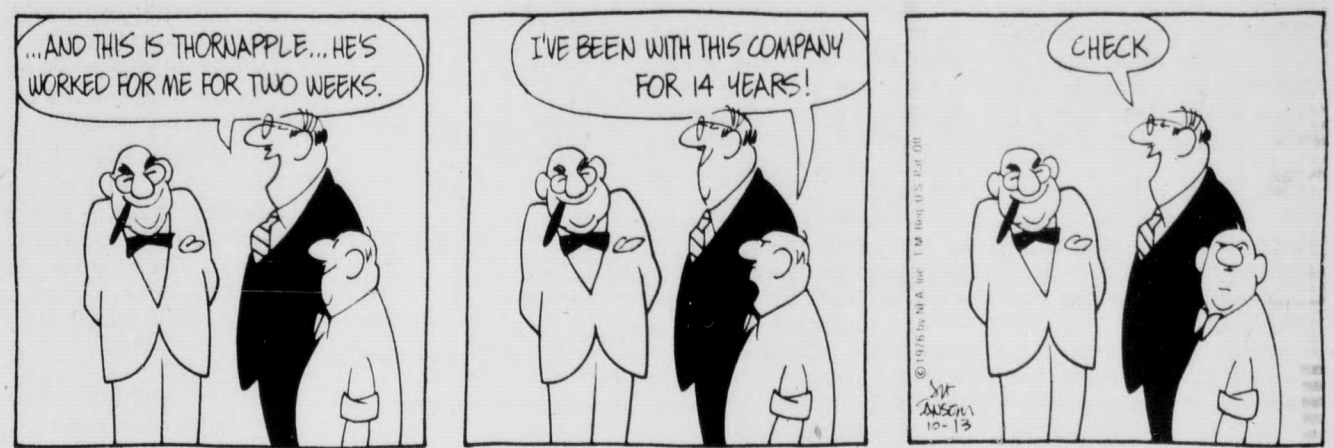

We apply the bid as a game force based on a hand that is just below an opening bid in strength and has been improved by our partner's call. Something like:

East Bay prep poll

Livermore making a quiet move

Livermore moved up one spot to eighth place while Dublin finally cracked the Top Ten in the East Bay Prep Football Poll released yesterday.

The 'Pokes, who have been creeping up in the poll ever since their 14-13 loss to Manteca three weeks ago, rallied to beat California 21-7 Friday night and are tied with the Gaels for first place in the East Bay Athletic League with a 2-0 record.

The Gaels, 19-14 winners over honorable-mentioners Monte Vista, moved to the number ten spot.

Granada, following a resounding 42-12 win over Amador, nevertheless remained in the sixth spot while San Ramon, 14-12 losers to Foothill after upsetting Granada the previous week, fell to 12th place.

Livermore meets San Ramon Friday night in Danville, where the 'Pokes will meet their toughest challenge of the season thus far in San Ramon the Wolves. Despite losing to the upstart Falcons, San Ramon's John Arnaudon and Troy Thomas continued to dazzle opponents. Thomas is the leading yardage passer in the EBAL with 228 yards and a 46% completion average, while Arnaudon is far out in front of the EBAL receiving stats, with ten catches for 169 yards.

Livermore's Pat Powles is the third-leading yardage rusher in the EBAL, with 280 yards in 36 carries. Powles may pick up a lot of yardage against the Wolves, who are seventh in the league against the rush. The San Ramon secondary, however, has yielded an amazing low of seven yards against Granada and Foothill. Livermore's senior signal-caller Rick Gildea, whose favorite targets are Bob Tarte and Dave West, will have his work cut out for him.

11. Kennedy (R)	3-2 38 12
12. San Ramon	3-2 28 8
13. Mt. Diablo	2-1-1 25 13
14. Marina	4-1 14 14
15. Piedmont	3-1 17 15
Honorable mention - John Swett, 5-0; Liberty, 2-2; Washington, Fremont, 3-1; Salesian, 3-1; Monte Vista 3-1-1; Oakland, 3-1; Antioch, 2-2; Pittsburg, 2-2.

In Dublin, the "Battle of the Backs" will take place when Jim Boulware and his Dublin teammates host the Vance Rushing-led Granada Matadors. Boulware leads the EBAL in yardage rushing with 364 yards in 37 carries for a 9.8 average. Rushing, however, picked up 132 yards on only 12 carries against Amador and is the leading rusher in the EBAL on a yards-per-carry basis, pegging 305 yards on 29 carries for a 10.5 clip. Dublin's Chuck Gangnuss has 243 yards on 24 carries for a 10.1 average.

Dublin is second, behind Livermore, in EBAL team defense. Tackle Bob Klein spearheads the Dublin front line. Granada came through with a good passing game against the Dons after switching to drop-back pass plays. Bob Parness and Steve Robison combined to complete eight of 11 passes for 143 yards. Each quarterback also passed for a touchdown.

Foothill meets depleted

Amador in an interesting matchup.

Quarterback Pat Inglesby is capable of a good passing night against the Falcons, with Mike Goodison, now a receiver after recovering from an ankle injury, his prime target. Amador coach Fred Wood may switch Goodison back to the backfield after the Dons' paltry 80-yard rushing effort against Granada, 58 of them coming from Rob Flores, who has gained 237 yards in two EBAL outings. Tailback Brad Cotton, quarterback Kevin Henderson and wide receiver Jay Johnstone lead the Falcon offense, fifth in the EBAL.

In the EBAL's other game, Monte Vista takes on winless California. Tracy Nodlinski played a big part in defending Livermore to a single touchdown through three quarters for the Bears, before finally succumbing, 21-7. Monte Vista is led by quarterback Bart Adams and split end Dave Cowan, who has nine catches for 143 yards for the 'Stangs.

49ers blank Rams, 16-0

LOS ANGELES — Quarterback Jim Plunkett threw for two touchdowns while the San Francisco defense threw Los Angeles passer James Harris for losses 10 times Monday night as the 49ers upset the previously undefeated Rams 16-0 in a National Football League game.

Winning their fourth game against one loss, the revitalized 49ers took over first place in the National Conference West by winning this nationally televised game before a crowd of 80,532 at Memorial Coliseum.

The shutout was the first the Rams have suffered in a regular season NFL game at the Coliseum since the team moved here from Cleveland in 1946.

The 49ers took the second half kickoff and promptly zipped 73 yards in four plays, the touchdown coming on a 36-yard pass from Plunkett to Willie McGee. Steve Mike-Mayer kicked the conversion.

Then the 49ers started to unload on Harris, who last week passed for 436 yards in a 31-28 victory over Miami.

Back to pass, Harris was hit by Tommy Hart, fumbled and defensive tackle Cleveland Elam recovered for the 49ers at the Los Angeles five. On third down at the six, Plunkett was hit, but still found Tom Mitchell two yards into the end zone for the touchdown. A high pass from center cost the conversion.

Wolfe bogeys, Dennis wins

San Leandro's Jeff Dennis birdied the first hole of a sudden death playoff Sunday to top Livermore's Vic Wolfe and take home first place honors in the eighth annual Livermore City Golf tournament at Las Positas Golf Course.

Wolfe bogied the final hole of regulation play to set up the sudden death playoff. Wolfe carded a six on the par-five 18th hole. Birdie, two strokes behind Wolfe coming into the final hole, recorded a birdie, tying Wolfe with two-day scores of 141.

Both golfers shot 71's in Saturday's first round and rallied to overtake first-day leaders Don Kovisto, Bill Paulson and Mark Hillsinger.

Val Beatriz, of Hayward, finished third in the tourney and collected $100, while Wolfe pocketed $150 and a trophy. Dennis took home the top prize of $250 and the winners' trophy.

Paulson, of Redwood City, and San Francisco's Hillsinger finished in a five-way tie for fourth place. Also in the log jam were Dublin's Bob Berg, Don Thames of San Jose and Oakland's Ashley Smith.

Raiders calmly derail Chargers

It's a matter of record that one of the things that makes the Oakland Raiders a winning ball club is that they don't panic when the chips are down.

The latest example took place Sunday in San Diego where the fired-up Chargers, their backs to the wall most of the first half, rallied to move ahead, 17-14, on a short touchdown run by Mercury Morris.

It took quarterback Kenny Stabler just two plays to wipe out that deficit. The lefthander hit Dave Casper on a 28-yard pass on the first play after the kickoff return by Rick Jennings and the next time the Raiders lined up on offense the Alabama Snake tossed to speedy Cliff Branch for the remaining distance, 41 yards.

So in one quick minute, Oakland was back in command after Charger rooters had every right to feel momentum was going their way and an upset was in the making. Oakland went on to score again on a four-yard run by Pete Banaszak en route to a 27-17 win.

"When we make up our minds to get the job done, we can do it," All-Pro tackle Art Shell said in the locker room at San Diego Stadium after it was over. "We had a couple of breakdowns, but overall I felt our offensive line did a good job" the big tackle added. "San Diego has a good front four defense and I think the Chargers are a playoff club."

"It's a four week season, the way I look at it," all-Pro guard Gene Upshaw noted. "Counting today, we go to Denver, then meet San Diego at home and Denver again."

Stabler, comparing the last two games, explained, "It's a matter of turnovers. Last week, we had too many and today there was only one. Actually, we didn't do anything different except execute better."

Wolves run past Mats, 20-34

Mark Baker and Steve Preece picked up the first two places to lead San Ramon past Granada, 20-34, keeping a stronghold on first place in East Bay Athletic League varsity cross-country action yesterday in Livermore.

Baker and Preece edged Granada's top runner Jeff Cowling, while Jim Anklaam picked up an important fourth place for the Wolves. Baker clocked a 16:01, while Preece finished in 16:12, Cowling in 16:17, and Anklaam a 16:34 finish.

Arlene Daley covered the 1.8-mile course in 11:19 to lead Granada's red-hot Girls team to an easy 15-34 win over the Wolves.

In another varsity match yesterday, Amador slashed Dublin, 18-41.

Mark Kendall and Mario daSilva led the Dons with times of 15:39 and 16:01, respectively. Robin Moss was Dublin's top finisher with a third place finish of 16:24.

A Letter to the Parents and Students of the

Dear Friends,

Three weeks ago a letter appeared in this paper informing you that we would be boycotting all after school activities. In that letter we explained we were taking this action because the School Board had failed to offer us an equitable contract. This situation has not improved.

The teachers and the School Board have declared an impasse. Under the procedures of the Collective Bargaining Law, SB 160, a mediator has been called in to act as a neutral party. He will attend all negotiation sessions and attempt to bring both parties to a mutual agreement. We feel that in abiding by the collective bargaining process, we are handling our contract dispute in a most professional manner.

We are committed first of all to kids. We chose to boycott rather than more severe measures because of that commitment. As a gesture of good faith, we have decided to suspend the boycott for the duration of the mediation process. We hope that mediation will bring an end to our contract dispute which has lasted far too long.

We have acted in a most responsible way. The proposals we have presented at the bargaining table are fair and equitable. We have not made demands the School Board cannot meet. We have not asked the School board to bankrupt itself in order to pay exorbitant salaries. We have not short-changed education. We have been more than fair, but we are growing short of patience. We have worked six weeks without a contract, we are anxious for a settlement, but we will not accept a substandard agreement. As mediation begins, we ask your support in demanding that the School Board make a serious commitment to the collective bargaining process and to its teachers and students.

Sincerely,
The Murray Teachers' Association

His search ends at Santorini

First of two parts

"My quest for the Lost Continent of Atlantis is at an end."

Thus concludes a long letter detailing the "findings and conclusions" of the Valley's self-appointed Atlantis scholar, Nicias P. Reckas. A native of Greece, the semi-retired salesman, who lives in Pleasanton, has returned to the land of his birth to examine some ancient ruins there.

Last fall, Reckas made his first foray to Santorini, an Aegean island called Thera in ancient times. The theory he shares with recognized experts is that the Minoan civilization centered on Crete was actually what came to be called the lost culture of Atlantis.

According to the theory, a volcano on the island of Thera blasted apart with such force that tidal waves wiped out all neighboring populations in the Minoan world, and volcanic ash sifted down to wipe out their traces.

Archaeologists are beginning to uncover impressive buildings and other signs of an advanced civilization beneath a hundred feet of ashes, on Santorini and elsewhere. This fall, with the permission from the Greek government and from local archaeologists, Reckas made a second trip to Santorini. He's exploring the ruins on his own, taking photographs and putting together a slide lecture to share with Valley groups when he returns.

Here's his latest report to The Times, mailed a week ago from Greece:

This is Santorini — one of a thousand Greek islands — and its volcano, the killer of a great civilization ruled by King Minos over three and a half thousand years ago.

Instead of a regular tourist's hotel, I am staying at a large house similar to a boarding house. It is called the "Pension of the Tortoise."

... It is now 1:00 in the afternoon, the starting siesta time for all the villagers. As custom dictates, I, too, am in my room but I cannot rest.

The pension is located several blocks from the outskirts of the village of Thera in the open countryside. The building is surrounded by fig trees and several acres of grape vines. The soil is mostly volcanic ash sprinkled with cinders and the vines coil like snakes against the ground to absorb any moisture present.

To the front of my window, perhaps one quarter of a mile distant, a local inhabitant is resting under a fig tree for his siesta. The ever present companion, a donkey, meanders aimlessly among the vines, picking the withering grape leaves. Occasionally, the animal stops and brays a hee-haw song which abruptly awakens the master.

After several choruses, the man rises, curses and admonishes the donkey that unless he is quiet it will be the "steps" for him.

At the mention of the "steps," the animal silences and rightfully so. For the "steps," 587 of them, zig-zag perpendicularly against the precipice starting at the quay where the small boats dock and ending at the summit, the center of the village Thera. And with an over-fed tourist on its back, no donkey or mule relishes the "steps!"

To my left, the immaculate white houses and innumerable Byzantine chapels precariously anchored against black lava cliffs look like cardboard cutouts posted on a blackboard. One thousand feet below, a numbed silence rises from the placid waters of the bay — "caldera" — a 32 square mile volcanic cavity.

And below the waters to an unknown depth, the brooding heart of the volcano still beats defiantly and menacingly.

Once a 5,210-foot mountain stood on what is now the middle of the bay. The eye follows the gradual rise of the present landscape beyond the saw-toothed crags and on to the crest of the now phantom peak.

About 2,000 BC, minor quakes and pimples of escaping lava tormented the base of the mountain. Gradually and for 500 years, the quakes that followed became more severe and the lava flow more abundant until on or about 1550 BC the stomach of the volcano emptied of all its acid substance could not support the mountain and it collapsed into that blazing void, followed by the waters of the surrounding seas.

The generated gases and the severity of the explosion that followed has never been recorded by ancient or contemporary man. The height and speed of the ensuing tidal wave have never been surpassed. The ejecting ashes covered the remaining landscape and seas to depths of one, two, three and 400 feet.

The waters became muddy and land-like with no possibility of navigation. Darkness prevailed for weeks. Tomorrow: Minoans' doom.

Valley campus expansion okayed

Armand Construction Company of San Jose has submitted an apparent low bid of $970,385 for construction of the first increment of an independent learning center, physical education facilities and an addition to the present science building at Chabot College - Valley Campus.

All bids submitted by 10 Northern California construction companies were under the estimate of $1,200,235. The low bid was 19 per cent below the estimate.

The bids were submitted to the college staff for review and recommendation. The schedule calls for work to start by November 1 with completion by next Fall.

Chabot College's final 1976 autumn quarter opening registration figures to tal 19,293 day and evening students, a decrease of 464 students over a year ago.

Figures show the Chabot - Valley Campus in Livermore is serving a grand total of 2,909 day and evening students, down 20 students from 1975-76.

It should be added, however, that the totals do not include registration in non-credit classes because of new registration procedures for such courses, according to Dr. Reed L. Buffington, president of Chabot College.

The day students total is 8,366 at Hayward and 1,238 at Valley Campus, compared with 8,302 and 1,037, respectively, last year.

Saturday's student enrollment at Hayward is 1,392 with 113 in attendance at Livermore. Totals last year were 1,474 and 162.

School milk aid standards set

The Amador Valley Joint High School District has listed criteria for children to receive free milk and for meals free or at a reduced price of 20 cents for lunch.

To apply at any time during the year for free or reduced - price meals and free milk for your children, an application must be filled out and returned to the school. Within 10 days of receiving the application, the school will let the parents know whether or not the child is eligible.

If you do not agree with the school's decision, you may discuss it with the school. To discuss the decision further, you may ask for a hearing.

This can be done by calling or writing Food Services, Robert Renard, director, at 462-5500 or writing to the district at P.O. Box 130, Pleasanton 94566.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If you have foster children living with you and wish to apply for such meals and milk for them, notify such on the application.

The criteria for free meals and free milk are as follows:

Family size (1), monthly gross income of $0 to 307; family size (2), monthly gross income of $0 to 403; family size (3), $0 to 498; family size (4), $0 to 594; family size (5), $0 to 683; family size (6), $0 to 770; family size (7), $0 to 850; family size (8), $0 to 929.

For reduced price meals, the monthly gross incomes ranges are as follows (family size of one through eight):

$308-478; $404-628; $499-777; $595-926; $684-1,064; $771-1,201; $851-1,326; $930-1,449.

The Amador Valley Joint High School District includes Amador Valley High, Foothill High and Dublin High.

Mori against Prop. 14

Assemblyman Floyd Mori has announced his opposition to Proposition 14, the ballot measure that would give United Farm Workers representatives the right to enter private grower-owned lands to campaign for an election.

"Given the recent changes in the makeup of the Agricultural Labor Relations Board, and the improbability of a re-occurring funding crisis such as we saw last January, Prop. 14 becomes unnecessary and will only make future ALRB-related problems much more difficult to resolve," Mori said.

"Prop. 14 really doesn't do anything except tie the hands of the legislature from dealing effectively with this question in the future," Mori said. "According to the California Constitution, an initiative statute can only be amended by another initiative, unless the original initiative specifies otherwise. Prop. 14 does not do this."

"No law is written such that all future needs can be foreseen. Sometimes only a word has to be changed; or, much more has to be done. In either case, Prop. 14 means that for any change in the Agricultural Labor Relations Act, additional propositions will have to be placed on the ballot. Not only is this process cumbersome and time consuming, but it circumvents the legislative process designed to create and amend laws. It will lock into a rigid structure a new system which we know very little about. I believe that rather than tie up such a new and complex program as the acceptance or rejection of unionizing by California's farmworkers in this unwieldy process, the electorate should continue to rely on the legislature and its members to guarantee that the act best accomplishes that task," Mori said.

The funding crisis Mori refers to took place when the ALRB ran out of money in January and did not get refunded until the regular budget for the new year was passed in July, Mori said.

"Prop. 14 contains a provision that requires the legislature to 'appropriate such amounts to the ALRB as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of the part,'" he added. "This is already within the authority of the legislature; and, in the words of the legislative counsel, such language 'would have no legal binding effect' on the legislature. The legislature will continue to fund the ALRB, as it does every agency and department each budget session, and Prop. 14 will have no effect on that process."

Mori said that the law should be given a chance to work, and may need modification in the future. He prefers that the state legislature act as a "sounding board" for problems in the act that could lead to "appropriate corrective action."

TLC sets speakers dates

Oct. 14; coffee, Diane Wall is hostess, 400 St. Francis Dr., Danville, 10 a.m., speaker, Lesley

Sweeney. Anyone wishing to attend may call 837-7994. Oct. 14; Julie Duda will speak to the Green Valley PTA board.

Oct. 18; Ralph Cozine will speak to the San Ramon Education Association at Charlotte Wood Elementary School in Danville. 3:30 p.m.

Oct. 19; coffee, Joan Whitehorn, Francie Miller are co-hostesses, 67 Long View Court, Danville, 9:30 a.m., Phone 837-2962.

Oct. 19; Danville Station Homeowner's will hold an open forum including a presentation by Dick Allen. Danville Station Clubhouse. 7:30 p.m.

Oct. 20; coffee, Sue Paul hostess, 3010 Round Hill Rd., 8 p.m., speaker, Marcy Frank. Phone 939-2475 to attend.

Oct. 21; coffee, Dee Bliss hostess, 140 Paraiso, Danville, 8 p.m., phone 837-0937 to attend.

Prop. 13 a tax answer

The question of how to meet many of California's pressing financial problems without a tax increase is the major overriding issue surrounding Proposition 13, the author of the greyhound dog racing initiative charged.

George Hardie said passage of the initiative to legalize parimutuel wagering on greyhounds could encourage the legislature to slash millions of dollars from the state's operating budget, would create 10,000 new jobs and provide new construction over the next two years amounting to more than $100 million.

"It's time for us to begin accentuating the positive and spread the word about the benefits accruing to every Californian without increasing taxes a single dime," Hardie said to a rally of Prop. 13 supporters recently.

The 42-year-old spokesman for the Golden State Greyhound Association, which hopes to build a new industry comparable to that existing in 12 other states, said friends of greyhound racing should "arm yourselves with all the facts, and especially those relating to the vicious multi-million dollar campaign of the horse racing people to defeat Prop. 13, and their highly unethical use of public officials and tax dollars to protect their private enterprise, profit-making monopoly."

"If Prop. 13 had been written and authored by the horse racing people instead of me, there wouldn't be a shred of opposition to it," Hardie said. "Even the public officials who talk against it, and the newspapers which have editorially opposed Prop. 13, agree that it's just a question of whether George Hardie ought to be in the act."

"My years of experience with greyhounds, together with my 12 years as a harness horse owner, driver and trainer, make me as qualified as anyone I know to play a major role in the development of a viable, productive greyhound industry in California."

"The legislature had a chance to act on a greyhound racing bill in 1975 and the horse racing lobby killed it in committee," Hardie continued. "Personally I've spent four long years and my entire resources to bring greyhound racing to California. I think those who have worked so hard deserve some place in the industry if Prop. 13 passes."

Hardie thanked members of the four-year-old greyhound association for "countless hours of effort to pave the way for a major new industry in California" and urged them to "battle down to the wire against those forces which would cheat California of so many needed benefits."

ADA endorsements

The Northern California Chapter of Americans for Democratic Action has released a list of endorsements for the Nov. 2 general election.

The ADA has endorsed incumbent Sen. John V. Tunney for re-election to a third term.

It also recommends that Congressmen Ronald Delums and Pete Stark be returned to their respective Congressional seats.

No recommendation was made in the 15th District Assembly race between Democratic incumbent Floyd Mori and Republican challenger David Funsch.

State propositions were endorsed as follows:

• Prop. 1, housing finance bond law — Yes.
• Prop. 2, urban and coastal park bond act — Yes.

• Prop. 3, energy conservation bond law — Yes.

• Prop. 4, U.C. competitive bidding — No.

• Prop. 5, interest rates — Yes.

• Prop. 6, bills and statutes extension — Yes.

• Prop. 7, judges, censure and removal — Yes.

• Prop. 8, county school superintendents — Yes.

• Prop. 9, constitutional offices, vacancies — Yes.

• Prop. 10, local property tax, two counties — Yes.

• Prop. 11, unsecured property, tax rates — Yes.

• Prop. 12, residential energy conservation — Yes.

• Prop. 13, dog racing initiative — No.

• Prop. 14, farm workers initiative statute — Yes.

• Prop. 15, chiropractor licensing — Yes.

Sources of Energy — No. 7 of a series

There's enough coal to generate electricity in the U.S. for centuries. But it's no simple energy solution here.

First, the good news

The coal resources of the United States are large enough to satisfy all of the nation's energy needs for 200 years or more. Most of it is in the Western states, and fortunately much of it is low in sulfur content.

PG&E is actively investigating coal as a future fuel for power generation, and we have recently acquired substantial coal reserves in Utah.

Now, the bad news

Reliance on coal resources for a major part of California's energy supply would create considerable logistical and environmental problems.

Unfortunately, there is no coal in commercial quantity in California, and the closest is almost 1,000 miles away. A 2,000 megawatt power plant would require shipments of 137 rail carloads of coal a day and burning it would produce 900 tons of ash a day — a substantial waste disposal problem.

Even if approval could be obtained from sister Western states to burn coal there and transmit the electricity to California, it would be more costly than locating the plants in California.

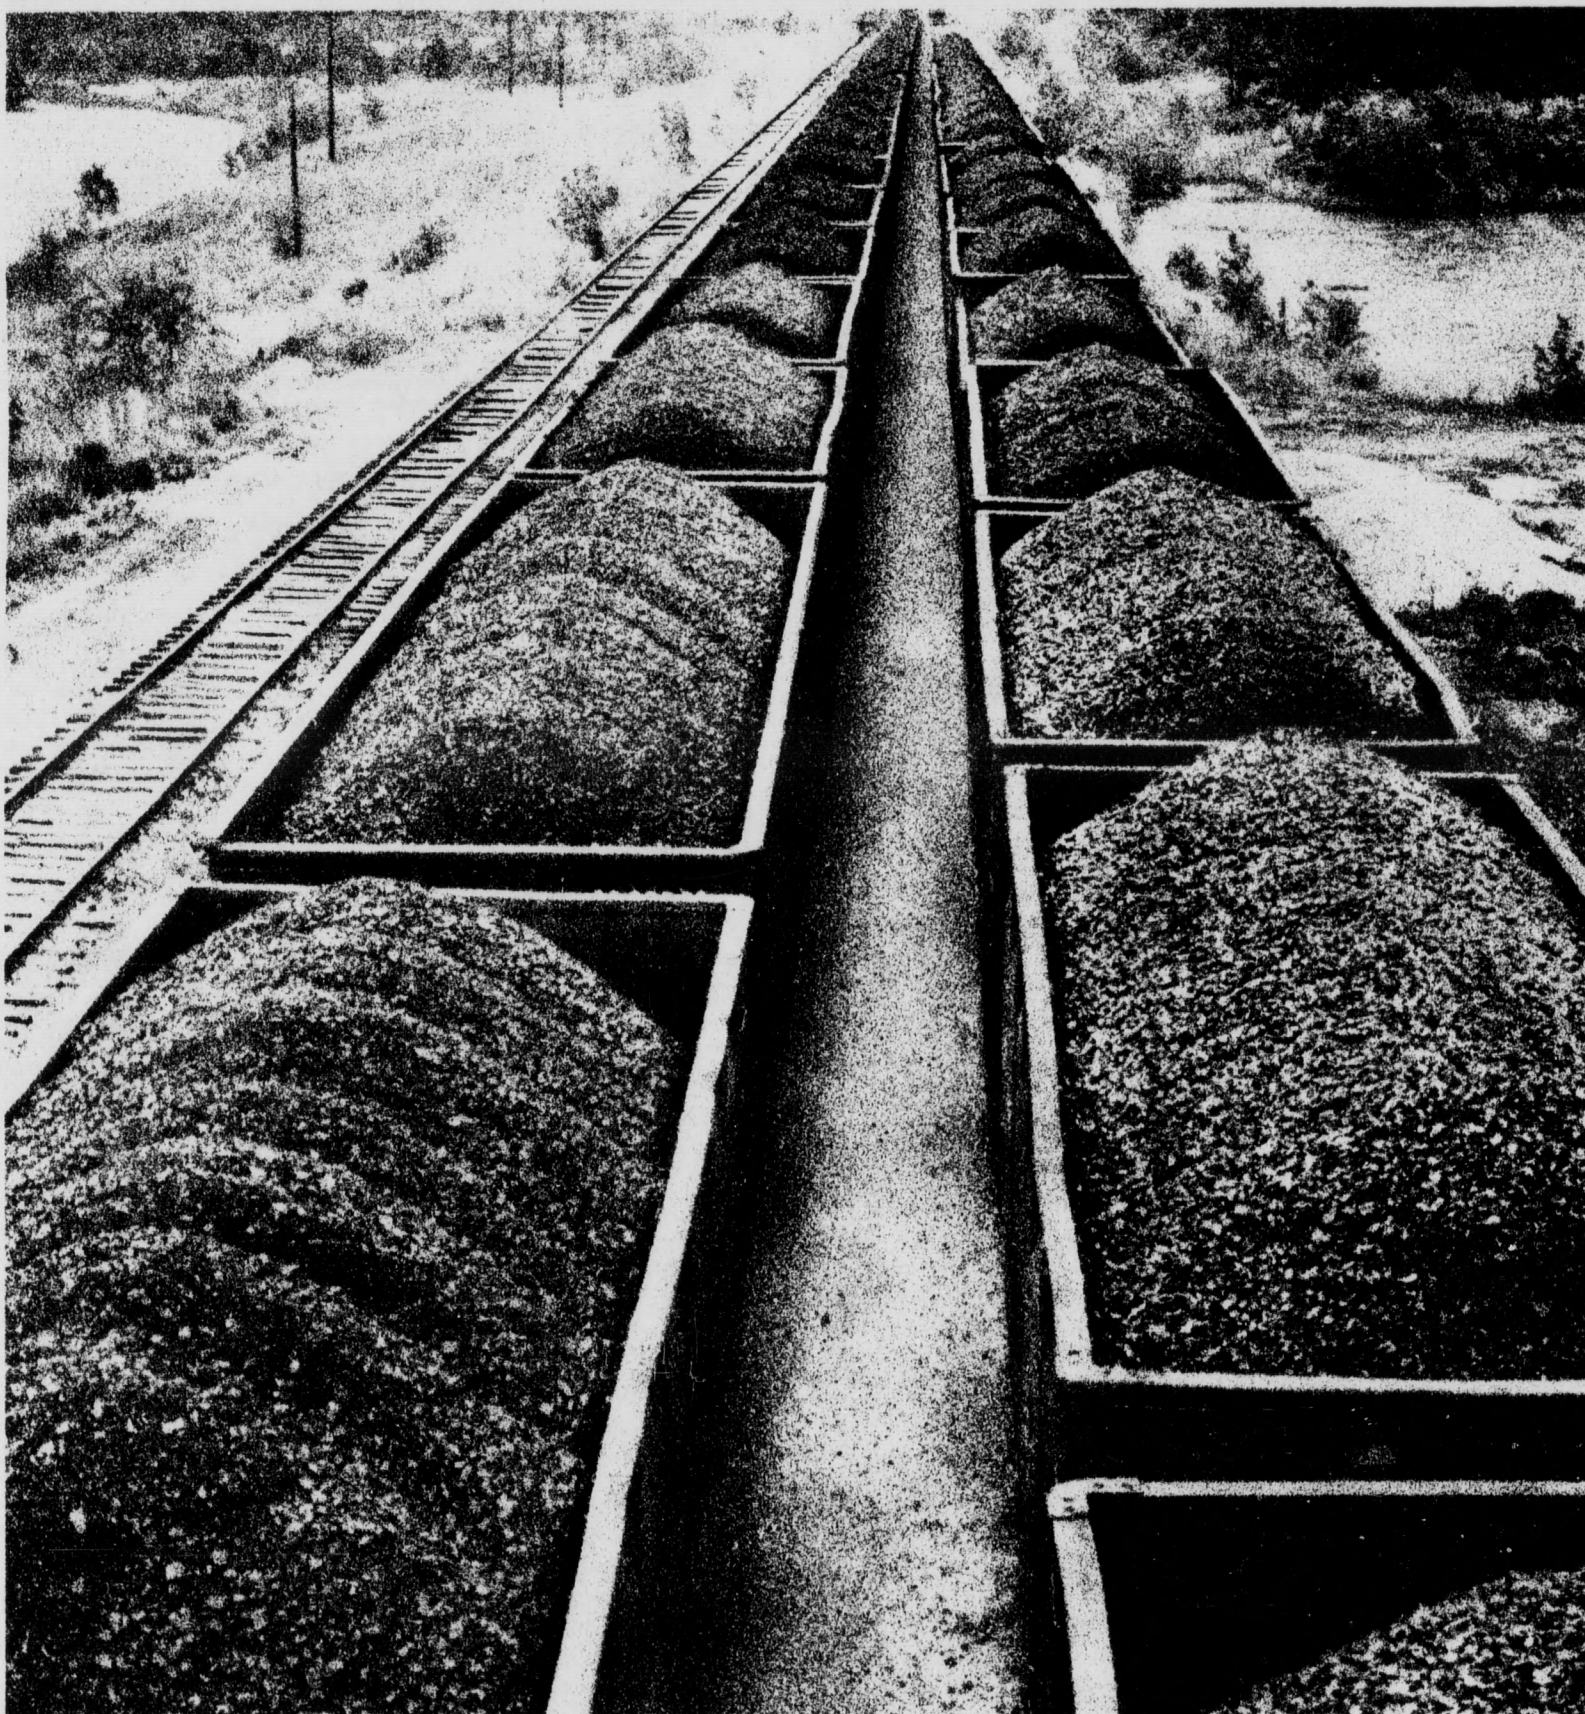

However, we shall continue to work on solving the problems and to develop our coal resources. Coal is one of the primary energy sources needed to help meet California's growing energy needs.

Other sources of energy

There are 5 sources of energy which PG&E now uses for generating electricity.

Northern California has one of the nation's most extensive hydroelectric systems. It produces relatively inexpensive electricity. But nearly all economical and acceptable hydro sites have already been developed.

That's why natural gas and oil have become more prominent in our energy mix. Unfortunately, the costs of these fossil fuels have been skyrocketing. In just 5 years, the price of fuel oil has increased sixfold and the average price for natural gas has tripled, accounting for most of our rate increases.

We have the nation's only geothermal power development, largest in the world, and we are expanding it. However, we estimate it would supply only about 10 percent of our needs by 1985.

These limitations are reasons why our fifth primary source of energy — nuclear — is so important, and why we, like other utility systems here and abroad, have turned to uranium as power plant fuel. When our two nuclear units at Diablo Canyon go into operation, they can produce electricity for about 40 percent less than new oil-fired plants, despite higher initial construction costs.

Wind, solar, garbage, tides, ocean thermal differences, fusion and other developing technologies may someday help us supply your energy. Some may take years to prove out. Others may never become efficient or reliable enough to be competitive. But if and when they are ready, we'll be ready too. In the meantime, we must meet your demands for electricity.

Facing the problem together

The demand for electricity continues to grow, partly because population itself continues to grow. And the problem of meeting this growing demand is critical.

For our part, we will continue our urgent efforts to develop all available sources, to find new ways to use energy more efficiently, and to keep you provided with adequate energy and reliable service at the lowest possible cost. For your part, the effective way to help control the spiraling cost of energy is to use less of it. We encourage you to do so because the energy you use is too precious ... and too costly ... to waste.

Save energy—
you'll save money, too.
